

THE HAUDENOSAUNEE PROMISE AT SYRACUSE UNIVERSITY PROJECT ADVANCE®

Syracuse University is pleased to announce the extension of The Haudenosaunee Promise scholarship program to include SU's Project Advance program. The Promise seeks to make the rich educational experiences and opportunities of Project Advance available to qualified Haudenosaunee American Indian high school students. The Promise expresses Syracuse University's gratitude and appreciation for the historical, political, and cultural legacies of the Haudenosaunee and honors the continually growing relationship between us.

Benefits: _Qualified high schools students receive financial assistance of 80% to enroll in SU courses offered through Project Advance. Five spots will be held in SU courses offered through SUPAOnline for eligible students.

<sup>1</sup> Only home schooled students, students residing outside of New York State, or students attending high school on a Nation's territory are eligible for online classes.

Syracuse University Project Advance is a partnership linking SU with secondary schools. Through this partnership, high schools offer qualified seniors the opportunity to enroll in Syracuse University courses for credit. Courses are offered in high school classrooms during the regular school day. They are taught by high school teachers who have completed graduate seminars in their subject areas and been named adjunct instructors at SU.

- Project Advance serves a five-state area: New York, New Jersey, Maine, Michigan, and Massachusetts.
- Over 7,000 students in 134 high schools annually enroll in SU courses through Project Advance.
- More than 500 teachers are certified as adjunct Syracuse University instructors offering SU courses.
